James Suckling: „... Every devoted Tuscan wine lover should seek out the riserva Chianti Classicos from Castello di Monsanto; they're great value at about $20 a bottle.

2016 Chardonnay

James Suckling (94): „...This is a chardonnay that combines clarity and definition with intensity. Aromas range from fresh apricots, green and yellow apples to grapefruit, cloves, dried jasmine and a hint of vanilla. The palate is very focused, serious and defined by its full body. It shows a creamy texture and finely cut acidity. Long on the finish. Drink now or hold“

2016 Chianti Classico

James Suckling (94): „...Shows raspberries, pepper and black olives. Medium to full body, round tannins and a fresh, crisp finish. Linear and bright. Classic style. Drink now“

Winespectator (93): „...Rich and supple, laced with black currant, black cherry, violet and earth notes. Vibrant, firming up as the fruit-stained aftertaste lingers. Best from 2020 through 2033...“

2015 Chianti Classico Riserva

James Suckling (96): „...Aromas of plums, cherries and hints of green olives. White truffles and deep earth, too. Full-bodied, so layered and beautiful with a fabulous texture and ripe tannins. It is so pure and minimalist in the end, showing the effect of traditional, hands-off winemaking. Don't miss this. Decant before serving. One for the cellar. Drink or hold.“

Winespectator (94): „...Tight and tannic for now, featuring cherry, black currant, leather, iron, juniper and tar flavors. Firmly structured, meaty and balanced on the tannic side, with a lingering finish. Best from 2021 through 2035...“

FALSTAFF Feb-März 2017 - Viva Il Chianti Classico (S. 154-158)

2011 Chianti Classico Riserva „Il Poggio“

Othmar Kiem (Falstaff): „...Leuchtendes, intensives Rubin mit leichtem Granatrand. Fein gezeichnete, duftige Nase, zeigt Noten nach Safran und getrockneten Tomaten, dann viel Brombeere, reife Kirsche, verspielt. Am Gaumen saftig und fest. Zeigt viel reife Frucht, nach Himbeere und dunklen Kirschen, entfaltet sich mit geschliffenem, dichtmaschigem Tannin, feine, präsente Säure gibt dem Weinlebendigkeit, im Finale würziges Zedernholz.“
